We're all learning!

The last two terms have been a real hive of activity in school with the children working very hard to make progress in their learning but also, the teachers have been undertaking learning of their own.

As you'll already know if you have a child in Sprat & Winkle, Redbridge or Mottisfont, we have had three student teachers with us from Winchester Uni who have been honing their craft as a teacher. They have contributed hugely to the classes and are now almost leading them full time with the teachers supporting and overseeing!

Miss Ribiero, Miss Oxford and Miss Airey are only 5 days away from the end of their practice and I'm sure you'll join me in thanking them for their hard work and wish them all the very best for their futures.

Clatford are now very lucky to be able to host Miss Kenyon who is on her final teaching practice with us before qualifying at the end of the year. She has been in class this week and will be with us right through until the end of the summer term.

As you can see from the photo, she's already getting stuck in!

Clubs

The great photo on the front of the newsletter is of HIIT Club at the end of their cool down on Thursday. They were exhausted but Miss Broadhead reports that they are always so enthusiastic and keen and work so hard....as the photo shows!!

The clubs choices letter is coming home today. We will be accepting replies from MONDAY morning onwards please to the letterbox outside the office.

Sharing Assembly

Today a packed audience watched Horsebridge share their most recent learning in our second ever sharing assembly. What a great demonstration of confidence and sound knowledge it was! I know that there were lots and lots of proud parents in the audience, and a very proud Miss T and I congratulated the children afterwards. Sharing assemblies are a small way of us sharing with you as parents what your children have been up to in their learning in school. Well done Horsebridge – Mottisfont, it's your turn next on Friday 24th May!

Positive discipline PARENT WORKSHOP Monday 1st April 7pm

She's back! Yes, by popular demand, Lorraine Lee is coming back to us on Monday evening (yes, after the weekend!) to share top tips and her experiences as a parents and knowledge as a child psychologist about positive discipline.

This came from greater demand from parents at the first workshop and I'm delighted that Lorraine was able to come back to us so soon.

There's no need to book a place, just turn up! If you know of parents in other schools who would be interested, they are more than welcome to come along for a small fee of £10 per family.

If you haven't been to a workshop with us yet, please do come along, they're really useful and only 2hrs (with wine and nice biscuits!!)

Thankyou!

There has been a really marked increase in support from home with spellings, reading and times tables this week, thankyou so much. Please keep it up over Easter. Thankyou also to FOSS for our fabulous new Kitcamp equipment, we love it!
